

Thursday, June 19, 1890.

We have every reason to believe that the republican state convention will be held here.

The republican state committee meets July 8, to fix a date for the holding of a state convention.

St. Louis is kicking about the census. Give the city a fair count. She deserves justice and should have it.

If St. Louis wants to retain her self respect she will shun the real estate "boomer." He is a curse to any city.

Poor Burgess! He gets so near and is left so far behind that he must by this time question whether life is worth living.

Mr. A. M. HOGAN returned from the St. Joseph convention with smiles as broad as the universe. He used his hatchet on Mr. Burgess.

The branch road should be extended and if the railroads do not care to do it, Jefferson City and Lebanon can do it.

The democrats have nominated Judge Gantt for the supreme bench. Mr. Wolf for superintendent of schools, and Mr. Hickman for railroad commissioner.

DALLAS, Tex., has secured Cleveland for its fall attraction, and San Antonio has David Bennett III. What's the matter with Beauregard and other southern attractions?

The democrats want the contract labor system abolished. As a rule the democrats never know a good thing when they have it, and in this matter there is no exception to the rule.

The opposition to McIntyre has taken the stage fright and fled to places of safety. The republicans will proceed to nominate some good farmer, and then there will be trouble.

After injuring Jefferson City as much as they could by taking the convention to St. Joseph, the crocodile democrats are slobbering around now, "that there is no place like Jefferson City for holding conventions."

The German emperor and his new chancellor, Von Caprivi, intend to visit the Czar of Russia on the 2d of August. It will be a grand affair and convert the meeting into a diplomatic event of considerable importance.

The democrats were very brave to snub Jeff Chandler, but not brave enough to snub Hickman. One renegade is usually as good as another, except in this case one of them had a club, and there are no cowards like democratic cowards.

When the democratic party of Missouri, with its boasted 40,000 majority, comes to nominating renegade democrats for its state positions, it speaks louder than words of the disintegration of that party. Poor old god forsaken renegade democracy. They will swallow Chandler yet.

There is no question about this being an opportune time for a move to secure an extension of the branch road to Lebanon. The Missouri Pacific can lose nothing by tapping the Frisco. A good big bonus can be raised if the people prefer that to building and owning the road.

SPEAKER REED has so endeared himself to the hearts of his countrymen that his future recognition is certain. The American people can always be relied upon to stand by a man that can muzzle 160 odd democrats as completely as Reed did, and apparently, without an effort.

Mr. ROY of Hermann, secretary of the republican congressional committee, is one of the good, progressive republicans in the district, and if this were not the farmers year we should like to see him make the race for congress. This is a bad year for bankers and lawyers and democrats.

The excellent diplomacy by which the Ewing vote was turned over to Gantt will give Mr. Henry W. Ewing a staunch new friend on the bench should be elected. It is good politics not to let your right hand know what your left hand doeth. It was a creditable piece of political foresight, and we are inclined to credit it to Mr. E. D. Ewing.

By 1892 the democrats will be so muddled up they won't know whether they are standing head or feet up. Hickman's nomination is just enough to make the farmers big enough to ask for the earth in 1892. Texas was smarter. Poor old Missouri democracy.

The call for a congressional convention to select a republican candidate—a farmer—to fill the position occupied by Mr. Bland, who represents some eastern district, has been issued, fixing the 13th of August, and Jefferson City as the place for holding the convention. Jefferson City is being recognized generally as the city of conventions this year.

A Mr. Kirk, who has had a measure pending in congress for some time, makes a charge of bribery against Congressman Springer of Illinois. Mr. Springer is a democrat with a big mouth and a small head, but he is above the smallness which Kirk charges against him. The press should be above aiding the Kirks to injure the character of a gentleman, but it seems that no lie is too mean to publish when it concerns a man in public life.

Mr. GANTT, according to the Cole County Democrat, was the railroad candidate. It seems that the fight was between two railroad candidates, Gantt and Burgess, one of whom was sure to win. The railroads own the democracy. No one was permitted to walk to St. Joseph unless it was some honest farmer who concealed his identity by keeping in the brush. We have heard of three who were so afraid of being concealed that they nearly broke their necks getting out of the thicket.

That the war is between the Pacific and Frisco, as the Banner stated, was made plain to-day by the latter tearing up the former's track on Rogers street, and the arrival of L. F. Parker, Frisco attorney, who is beginning suit to prevent the Pacific from occupying that street.—Carriage Banner.

This war will help the branch road along if properly pushed. This is the accepted time for action.

The coming session of the legislature promises to be one of exceptional interest. It will take a cool and level head to keep the farmers out of the fire, for they will attempt many things, and without a guiding star, much mischief will naturally be done. Any movement on the part of men representing a particular industry should be deprecated, because class legislation is a curse to any people and movements of the nature named have nothing else in view. They do not come to legislate honestly for the whole people, but have imaginary grievances, and in their effort to correct them do some other class irreparable injury.

Boss FILLEY says that he is not particular where the republican state convention is held. This indicates that the boss is not losing much sleep over the condition of the republican party in this state. The loss of the St. Louis postoffice has cooled the old man's political ambition considerably.—Tribune.

We know of no one that was more gratified over Mr. Filley's non-appointment than the democrats. Republicans throughout Missouri, regardless of faction, recognized his eminent fitness for the place, and the president did not help the party in Missouri when he disregarded the request of the eminent republicans who were asking Mr. Filley's appointment. The "old man" has not been "cooled" off near as much as Cockrell will be two years hence.

For THE STATE REPUBLICAN, Bland and the Bonanza Kings.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 12, 1890.—We need more money in circulation. Everybody agrees to that. The bill which passed the house June 7, proposes to buy 4,500,000 ounces of pure silver every month and pay for it with silver certificates, which are as good as silver dollars or gold dollars either for that matter, thus adding to the circulation each year $21,457,790. This is a republican measure formulated to give relief to depressed business and particularly to the interests of labor and agriculture. Against this measure Mr. Bland spoke and voted in favor of free silver coinage.

What does that mean? Free coinage could not give us another dollar of the circulating medium, because the bill as passed will consume the whole silver output of our mines. There will be no bullion left for free coinage or any other kind of coinage; it will all be converted into silver dollars and thrown into circulation. Then what would be the effect of free coinage? It would be just this, if nothing worse, to make a free and absolute gift to the silver mine owners, the silver "barons," to use Mr. Bland's expression of $1,379,799.99 monthly, or $19,557,690 every year. Now to the point. On the day the bill passed the house the 371 1-4 grains of silver in a silver dollar were worth just 73 cents. Suppose I had 1,000 ounces of silver bullion, to-day it would be worth $1,063.47; I could pay just that amount of debts with it, or it would go just that far in buying land, or mines, or wheat or merchandise. Or the U. S. mint would give me just $1,068.47 in money, or silver certificates for it. But if Mr. Bland had his way in the establishment of free coinage I could take that same 1,000 ounces of silver in the mint and there get for it $1,392.92, with which I could then pay debts or buy land, or mines, or wheat, or merchandise to that amount easily. In other words every ounce of silver the mint would coin for me would be made worth 23 4-10 more to me in any way I should want to use it.

How would the man I owe or the farmer from whom I want to buy mules or wheat, or the merchant from whom I want to buy goods be helped by the government, as a pure gift, making my silver worth 28 per cent. more to me? Has not the farmer as much right to demand that the government shall add 28 per cent. to his mules, or cattle, or wheat, or corn?

But how does this added value come about? In this way: As the law stands and under the bill passed by the house the difference in value between the uncoined bullion and the coined silver dollar goes into the U. S. treasury. Mr. Bland would shift it from the U. S. treasury to the pockets of the silver mine owners. He voted against giving the drowned out and starving people of the south $150,000 out of Uncle Sam's coffers, but instead, he would every year give to the California and Rocky Mountain millionaires just one hundred times that much. He can vote to close up every lead and zinc mine in South Missouri with free Mexican lead, and to bank up every iron furnace with cheap English or Belgian iron while making these immense free gifts to the bonanza kings of the west; and all this I repeat without adding one dollar to the circulation. These are all absolute facts which only ignorance or venality can deny.

Does Mr. Bland fairly represent the people of the Eleventh district? Are they satisfied to have all their own mines and furnaces shut up while the government makes a free gift of fifteen million yearly to the silver lords without any accruing benefit to them?

This they will have to answer, but I would like to have them answer it intelligently, knowing just what the facts are, and voting freely with these facts square before their eyes. Very respectfully, T. H. M.
